

ACROSS

- 1 (Burgreen) ___ were initially fashioned out of stone, primarily a thrusting/stabbing weapon and found in the tomb of King Tut
- 2 (Fortier) Pistolet Samozaryadny Malogabaritny. translates to “___ Semi-automatic Miniature”
- 4 (Ficaretta/Reeves) DDTC regulations in ITAR Section 127.12(c)(1) state that persons who want to make a voluntary disclosure should initially notify DDTC “immediately after a ___ is discovered”
- 7 (Choat) The ARES Sport Configurable Rifle is the first rifle to successfully combine the traditional lines of a ___ pattern rifle with the modularity of an AR-15 rifle
- 11 (Segel) Some pommels of battle blades used in World Wars I and II often had a spike or cone shape to the end, called a “___-crusher” to enable a backhanded injury after swinging through
- 12 (Ehringer) The early Model 01 had a ___ flash hider that had a bad habit of bending or breaking so a three-prong was manufactured to replace it
- 15 American Built Arms (abbr)
- 17 (Cutshaw) Unlike the M4, the M4A1 is capable of full automatic fire rather than having the M4’s ___-round burst feature
- 18 (Ramos) When the Trejo Model -1 pistol selector lever is placed on upper position “R,” the pistol fires “full ___” “R” stands for RAFAGA which is full-___ in Spanish
- 19 (Lake) The Personal ___ Weapon-PDW, by basic definition, is a carbine but made lighter, smaller, more adaptable and more capable than a standard rifle or carbine
- 21 Super___ and Sub___ rounds

DOWN

- 1 (Burgreen) The C308 employs a roller ___ blowback operating system
- 3 (Ferguson) The theory behind the ‘gas-bleed delay,’ is that part of the gas propelling the bullet seeps through ports in the barrel to impinge on the inner surfaces of the ___ (or reciprocating cylinder)
- 4 (Pohjoispää) Most gas-operated assault rifles have rotating bolt heads with front mounted locking lugs, but the vz58’s bolt moves ___ along the bolt carrier’s guide ways
- 5 (Pikula) The M-66 SP muzzle brake has ___ vertical slots with a transverse slot just behind the exit hole angled rearward at 45 degrees and is serial numbered to the gun
- 6 (Campbell) The Desert Eagle 1911 pistol features a low bore axis with a good balance that limits ___ flip
- 8 (Kotnik) The bolt carrier of the Magal carbine is similar to a bolt carrier of the standard Galil rifle, except that the bolt carrier does not incorporate a ___ ___ (2wds) in the bolt carrier assembly
- 9 (Hern) The ___ was developed in the immediate post war period and first adopted by the Soviet Union as the AK47
- 10 (Stuart) The Soviet M1940 Mortar is a pretty simple straight forward conventional design with a barrel, baseplate, bipod legs, and a simple ___ system
- 13 (Bartocci) The BN36 bolt carrier has a handle attached to it and is actuated from the right side, the bolt handle travels with the bolt ___
- 14 Battle Arms Development (abbr)
- 16 (Iannamico) One of the problems encountered when firing a lot of .22 rimfire cartridges through a M16 or AR-15 is the eventual fouling and ___ of the weapon’s relatively small gas port and gas tube
- 20 Echo Valley Training Center (abbr)